PERSISTENT HEAT WAVE CONTINUES UNABATED HERE

One of the most persistent June heat waves in history continues unabated in its third week Wednesday as the thermometer promised another rocket trip to the 100 and above heights, despite a refreshing, cool morning when the mercury went down to the low of 80 degrees.

Tuesday afternoon, the mercury soared to 104 degrees, the third highest temperature reading of the heated spell, according to E. Pearl Skelton, local volunteer government weather observer. A peculiar circumstance surrounding the present heat wave is that the nights are fairly cool and comfortable for this time of year with the thermometer ranging from 70 to 80 degrees, but during the day the thermometer steadily climbs until it almost daily passes the century mark.

This is explained by the fact that there is and has been practically no humidity, no rain or clouds, the entire heat stricken area being dry. Consequently, the heat does not hurt as much as it would otherwise, the lack of humidity allowing what little breeze there is to circulate freely and do the greatest possible amount of good.

That range of temperature between day and night has been as high as 35 degrees here. Local citizens are becoming accustomed to the heat wave and are now rather enjoying themselves. They are wondering, however, just how high the thermometer will go in July and August with such a June "warm up."

Miss Jeannette Corry, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. C. Corry of Farmersville, left Thursday for a month's visit in the South and East, in company with a party of five girls from the University of Texas, all members of the Delta Delta Delta sorority. They will visit in several Southern state universities where the Tri Delta sorority has chapters, as well as in the East, attending the Seventeenth National and Second International Convention of Delta Delta Delta sorority, at Virginia Beach, Virginia. They plan also to visit Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Chicago and St. Louis.

W. F. TURNBOW, 78, PASSES AWAY AT FOREST GROVE

DECEASED WELL-KNOWN AND RESPECTED COLLIN CITIZEN

William Franklin Turnbow, born February 20, 1856, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Price Strickland in the Forest Grove community Tuesday, June 17, at 10 a. m. He had been in failing health for some time. The deceased was 78 years, 3 months and 29 days old at the time of his passing.

Funeral services were held last (Wednesday) afternoon at 3 o'clock at Forest Grove, conducted by Rev. Milton Greer, Rev. J. Ben Snider and Rev. A. H. Snider. Interment was made in Fitzhugh cemetery.

The deceased was a long-time resident of this county, having lived in the Blythes Chapel community before moving to Forest Grove. He was widely-known and highly respected by every acquaintance. His funeral services were largely attended and many beautiful flowers covered the bier. The Perry Funeral home of Farmersville was in charge of funeral arrangements.

Mr. Turnbow was married August 5, 1890, to Miss Nettie Elizabeth Massey, the late Eld. John McKinney officiating. His wife preceded him in death, October 17, 1915.

POPULAR COUNTY OFFICIAL GOING TO DETROIT

County Farm Agent Jack McCullough is planning to leave McKinney Friday evening for Detroit, Michigan, to attend the International Rotary convention and to take a few days' badly needed rest.

Mr. McCullough has been one of the most heavily worked public officials of our county during the last two years. His ordinary duties as County Agent, that he has met so efficiently, have been augmented by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration work that has been heaped upon him.

Our county has more than 6,000 farms and farmers. Both the Federal and State Governments have used County Farm Agents as their key men in carrying out farm recovery programs of crop reduction that involve a multiplicity of duties.

Mr. McCullough is a robust, energetic, good natured fellow who has shirked no duty. He is always at work, smiling as he serves the best interests of his farmer friends and cheerfully faces his heavy official responsibility as placed upon him by his superiors in the State and Federal Governments.

Mrs. Shirley G. Taylor was painfully scorched about the face and head, Saturday morning, in attempting to light her gas stove. She and her husband have just recently occupied their pretty newly erected home on North Waddill street. The stove fittings or gas conection seemed not to have been properly regulated which caused the explosion when she attempted to apply the lighted match to start a fire with which to prepare breakfast. She was promptly treated by the family physician and no permanent scars are expected to result.

A. C. Bullock Jr. has bought the nice cottage home, known as the Everett property, corner of Tucked and Oak streets, and will soon occupy it as a home. The property was sold to him by Ray & Roberts company. Mr. Bullock is the popular and well-liked owner of Bullock's big garage and filling station, corner of West Virginia and South Church streets. No young man in the city has more friends than A. C. Bullock Jr.

Quick work by the Volunteer Fire Department, under the direction of Chief John S. McKinney, saved the W. A. Bevel home on South Chestnut street from complete destruction by fire early Saturday morning. No member of the family was at home, the house being locked, preventing a draft. No estimate of the loss or amount of insurance carried has been obtained.

Mr. and Mrs. Hi Wilmeth have gone to San Antonio to attend the State Christian Endeavor convention.

BAILEY DENIES CLAIMS MADE FOR CONNALLY

IN REGARD TO $500,000 OBTAINED FOR RURAL SCHOOL RELIEF

Speaking to a gathering of DeWitt county voters at Cuero Wednesday night, Congressman Joseph W. Bailey Jr. criticized Senator Connally, declaring he had claimed credit where none was due him for obtaining $500,000 in Federal funds for rural school relief.

"The payment of $500,000 through the Texas Relief Commission, by the FERA was hailed as an outstanding achievement for the people of Texas by their junior United States Senator in a statement issued this week by Connally's campaign manager," Mr. Bailey said. "This statement is in keeping with the Connally policy of claiming credit for every Federal favor conferred upon Texas or Texans.

"The Connally statement says thousands of rural school children will be enabled to continue their education because of the allocation. As a matter of fact, the funds allotted are to pay school teachers for work already done in a program that has already been completed.

"Senator Connally evinced no sympathy with the program at the time it was announced, took no part in either its inception or its execution. He had no more to do with this allocation than did any Texas Congressman.

"My platform makes very clear my position in support of Texas schools and school teachers. I supported in Congress the appropriation of $75,000,000 to assist rural schools to continue their term."

Mrs. W. G. Ashley, son, Ray Ashley, and daughter, Miss Mattie May, all visited her sister, Mrs. M. E. Neely, at Leonard, Sunday. Mrs. Ashley also visited a nephew, D. L. Craig, who is critically ill at Leonard.

Up For Re-election

J. E. McDONALD

An editorial in a recent issue of the Houston Chronicle commenting on the work of Commissioner McDonald says:

"The visit of J. E. McDonald, state commissioner of agriculture to Houston reminds us of the sterling service which Mr. McDonald has rendered the state. While he has recently announced for reelection to his office, he states he will make no campaign, that he depends on the record he has made during the last two years to commend him to the voters.

"He deserves the hearty support of the electorate. He toiled on farm relief plans long before the Federal government took effective hold of them; and after Washington did move, he became the most potent agent of the new administration in agricultural circles of Texas.

"He has done herculean work in explaining the federal program to the millions of farm people of the state, and he has had much to do with winning their approval of it and cooperation with it. He now looks to Washington for the elaboration of a permanent farm program, and he expects to give his full efforts to a realization of this program.

"Mr. McDonald is a devoted and capable a man as we are likely to get for agricultural commissioner, and he is in step with the times. Unless Texas desires to cut itself loose from the Federal program, and attempt to hoe its row alone, we had better return Mr. McDonald to office."

A PROMINENT DALLAS PASTOR DIED SATURDAY

DR. O. T. COOPER MADE MANY GOOD FRIENDS IN COLLIN COUNTY

Dr. O. T. Cooper, 52, of 1211 North Tyler, pastor of the Oak Cliff Methodist church, president of the Dallas Methodist hospital board of trustees and former presiding elder of both Dallas and Sherman districts, died at 8:30 p. m. Saturday at a local hospital after an illness of several weeks.

Funeral services were conducted Monday at 2 p. m. at the Oak Cliff Methodist church with Dr. J. H. Groseclose in charge of the services and with three bishops participating, namely, Sam R. Hay, A. Frank Smith and John M. Moore. The body lay in state Monday from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. Burial at Arlington, Texas.

Dr. Cooper was a trustee of Southwestern university at Georgetown and of Kidd-Key college at Sherman and secretary of the Texas Methodist Educational association. For a number of years he had been conference director of the superannuate endowment of the Methodist church and also a former trustee of the C. C. Young Memorial home.

Dr. Cooper was born on March 26, 1882, in Arlington. He was a graduate of Southwestern university and of Vanderbilt, and also held an honorary doctor of divinity degree from Southwestern. He was affiliated with the Masonic Lodge and also with the Round Table.

Survivors are his wife, Mrs. Jennie Hill Cooper, and two daughters, Anu Catherine Cooper and Frances Hill Cooper; his mother, Mrs. J. D. Cooper, of Arlington, and three brothers, James N. Cooper, Arlington; Dr. John M. Cooper, Oklahoma City, and Horace W. Cooper, Arlington.

Dr. Cooper was a collegemate and lifelong friend of Dr. Bounds, pastor of the First Methodist church of McKinney; a friend also of Rev. F. Lamar McGown, pastor of the South Wilcox Street Methodist church of this city. He had been a delegate to the General Conferences of his church at the four last Quadrennial conferences. Wallace Hughston served with him at two of them—at the recent one in May, at Jackson, Mississippi, and the one at Memphis, eight years ago. Wiley B. Wilson served on the conference with him from the North Texas Annual conference held four years ago in Dallas.

MOST OF ONIONS NEAR PRINCETON ARE HARVESTED

Our good friend, Bob Parker, was here from Princeton Monday. He says the bulk of the onion crop around Princeton has been harvested and marketed.

Up to Saturday night, 185 cars had been shipped out of Princeton and that some were predicting that possibly enough onions would still come in to run it up to 200 cars, but he doubted it.

The L. A. & T. railway has been pulling onions out of Princeton with two freight trains each day since the harvest began about three weeks ago.

The acreage was larger in the Princeton territory, perhaps, than ever before, but the yield was comparatively low—possibly, not more than two-thirds of an average yield.

The onion average, this year, nearly $500 per car, (500 bus.) to the farmers who raise them. This amount of money turned loose in the community together with the wages paid labor in pulling, topping, crating and shipping has added greatly to the relief of local business conditions and very perceptibly stimulated every line of business at that excellent little town.

Clarence E. Coffey, assessor and collector of the corporate town of Frisco, and also of the Frisco Independent School District, transacted business in McKinney Wednesday.

Mrs. Cranfil H. Cox of Gilmer, has been a guest the past few days in the home of her sister, Mrs. Jesse M. Foster, and family.

Mrs. Eva Manley, one of the competent teachers in our city schools, will spend this summer vacationing with her children. She will leave this week-end for Waco to visit with her daughter, Mrs. Farris Wilson. From there she will go to Austin to visit another daughter, Mrs. Cassie Dwyer and before returning home she expects to be a guest of her son, Lee Manley and wife, in Harlingen, Texas.

MRS. W. H. KNOTT'S FRIEND KILLED IN AUTO CRASH

Mrs. Lucy Lomax Caldwell, 45 the wife of L. L. Caldwell, banker of Garland and Brownwood who was instantly killed when the sedan in which she and her husband were riding when they crashed into a truck on the Northwest Highway near Dallas Monday morning early, was a close friend of Mrs. W. H. Knott and husband of this city. Mr. Caldwell was expected to die Monday night so severe were his injuries. Mrs. Caldwell, who was driving the car, was thrown between the foot pedals by the force of the crash. Both her legs were broken in several places. Her skull was fractured, and her right arm and wrist were broken.

She and her husband were returning to Brownwood at the time of the accident. They had been on a visit to their home at Garland. Mr. Caldwell is one of the best known bankers in the state. Mrs. Caldwell and Mrs. Knott became intimate friends while residing in Tishomingo, Oklahoma, several years ago, and later renewed their friendship when both families moved to Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Knott were greatly grieved by the violent death and severe injuries of their friends, Mrs. Caldwell having often visited in the Knott home, here, and Mrs. Knott having visited them in Garland on different occasions.

TOM CONNALLY GETS AID FOR RURAL TEACHERS

Allotment of $500,000 of Federal relief funds to Texas for salaries of teachers in rural schools where funds from other sources have been exhausted was announced Tuesday by the Federal relief administration. Administrator Harry L. Hopkins advised Senator Tom Connally of Texas that the allotment had been approved. Senator Connally had taken the matter up with Hopkins.

"I have before me," wrote Hopkins, "your urgent request that this administration appropiate funds for the rural school teachers in Texas who have been teaching in schools that would otherwise have been closed and for whom no wages are available. I wish to advise you that I have gone into your request very carefully and have today made an appropriation of $500,000 to Texas."

Detailed information as to the number of teachers to benefit from the allotment was lacking, but the additional educational advantages accruing to pupils will be great. The double benefit of providing wages to needy teachers and education to rural students accrues from this type of relief appropriation. Matching with State funds is not required. Senator Connally worked unceasingly for these benefits for rural teachers and farm children.

To Tell of Record

SEN. TOM CONNALLY.

TOM CONNALLY TO MAKE SERIES OF SPEECHES IN STATE

COMING AFTER CONGRESS ADJOURNS TO TELL OF HIS RECORD

United States Senator Tom Connally will return to Texas immediately after the adjournment of Congress, and will take personal charge of his campaign for re-election for a second term in the Senate, so announces J. F. Rice, of Dallas, recently appointed state-wide campaign manager for the Texas junior Senator.

Connally will deliver half a dozen or more addresses, one or more in each section of the State, in which he will review this record in the Senate and give an accounting of his official actions to his constituency in Texas, Rice said.

"In the meanwhile," said Rice, "Senator Connally will remain in Washington, doing his duty, representing the people of Texas. Since the Roosevelt administration took office, the Senator has been one of the President's close counsellors, and one of the leading sponsors entrusted by Mr. Roosevelt with the task of piloting administration legislation through the upper house. In his absence from the State, the Senator's interests are being looked after by his friends, and he has asked me to publicly thank the thousands of loyal friends and constituents who are actively campaigning in his behalf from one of Texas to the other.

"I have just returned from a motor trip of 8,000 miles made during the past few weeks into every section of the state. I find the sentiment for Senator Connally so overwhelming that there can be no doubt that the people of Texas are unwilling that he should be penalized for remaining at his post of duty, loyally supporting the President of the United States and aiding in the perfection of the New Deal, instead of leaving his constituency unrepresented in order to further his personal political fortunes."

Mrs. Glenn Scott of Allen and Mrs. G. Edward Bolger of Farmersville have gone to Texas university, at Austin, for a six weeks 'course, working towards their B. A. degree. Both are teachers in the Allen Public school, being the twin daughters of Dr. and Mrs. M. O. Perry of Allen. Mrs. Bolger is the wife of the manager of the Perry Funeral home at Farmersville, while Mrs. Scott is the wife of Glenn Scott, partner with Leonard Cole in the Scott & Cole Oil Co., here. These two fine young lady teachers have numerous friends in this city and county who are glad to see them pursue their college education.

John McNeil is having some nice improvements made on his residence on South Barnes street. The improvements include having a new roof put on and the house re-painted.

W. S. Giles, Route 2, Anna, and son, Vernon, were business visitors in McKinney, Wednesday. Mr. Giles is a native of Spartanburg, South Carolina, but has lived many years in Texas—for the last thirty years on his present farm, two miles north of Westminster. A great many relatives of the Giles family live in that section of Northeast Collin. All are high class people.

Mrs. Lillis Montgomery is a patient in the McKinney City hospital where she submitted to a major operation Tuesday. Mrs. Montgomery is a daughter of former County Tax Assessor L. T. Gay and wife. Our readers will remember that last March she submitted to an appendicitis operation, while shortly afterwards she was ill for several weeks with pneumonia. Latest reports from the City hospital state that she is resting as well as could be expected.

M'KINNEY WILL OBSERVE JULY 4, INDEPENDENCE DAY

Following a long established custom, McKinney will observe Wednesday, July 4, National Independence Day, as a general holiday. Local merchants will close their places of business throughout the day and, according to present plans, "the Glorious Fourth" will be observed in a fitting and proper manner.

Of particular interest is the all-day program being arranged by the local Junior Chamber of Commerce for visiting Jaycees from Dallas, Fort Worth and Denison. The day's activities include, in an athletic way, golf and tennis tournaments, softball, bowling and handball games. There will be a dance that evening, a picnic party and supper in the form of an old-fashioned barbecue will be given by the local Junior Chamber.

The "Fourth" is a time when many people visit out of town, taking advantage of the occasion to visit relatives, while the day also draws many here from other places for picnic gatherings, family reunions and other occasions.

Bobby and Sue McCoy, little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. (Bob) McCoy, spent the past week-end in the Foote community, guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lee McCoy. They attended church services there Sunday and were invited to give a program of music, including piano and vocal numbers. Rev. Cecil Grigg is pastor of the Foote church. The program of these two young McKinney girls was greatly enjoyed.

Roy Roberts, one of McKinney's business men, has a screening and packing shed of his own in McKinney to handle his onions. He has made 1200 bushels of onions from 16 acres on his farm near Chambersville. He is getting 95 cents per bushel for No. 1's. Roy Caldwell, prominent McKinney groceryman, saw his onion field just before harvest commenced. Roy says he never saw better looking onions. However, Roy Roberts says that his stand was not perfect, otherwise he would have made a larger per acre yield.

J. Ed McGee and wife of the Fitzhugh Mills community were in McKinney Wednesday afternoon. Mr. McGee has some exceptionally well bred registered Jersey cattle, but he says that they are still distressingly cheap. He appreciated the nice shower that fell on his farm Tuesday morning. Mrs. McGee is a former County Home Demonstration Agent who made a record in the office that is still regarded as a wonderful work to do among the farm women and girls of this great agricultural county.

Misses Elnora Horn, Mary Ruth Bowman, Eva Ellen Berry and Mattie Alice Apple, are representing the Christian Endeavor of the First Christian church this city at the State convention which is being held in San Antonio this week-end.

ONION MARKET REMAINS STEADY, GOOD DEMAND

FARMERSVILLE SHIPPED 160 CARS TO THURSDAY, JUNE 14

Editor M. B. Smith has the following to say in his paper, the Farmersville Times, issued, June 15, about the onion deal in that East Collin metropolis:

Up to Thursday noon, June 14, Farmersville had shipped around 160 cars of onions to Northern and Eastern markets, while a good quantity of onions has gone out by truck.

The farmers have been busy gathering the crop and hundreds of laborers are employed in the fields and on the platforms. The deal was delayed slightly by the rain of Tuesday morning. The rain may help late onions.

The prices have been steady, advancing slightly on better grades. No. 1 whites are selling at from 95c to $1.00, while No. 1 yellows have sold as high as $1.20.

With good weather prevailing, 95 per cent of the crop of this section will be harvested by the latter part of next week. The yield is average, running from 75 to 175 bushels per acre—with a few crops running above 200 bushels.

Residential and commercial lighting rates in Sherman have been reduced an average of 10 per cent, effective with the bills which the customers will receive in July. This announcement was made Saturday by Joe H. Durning, district manager of the Texas Power and Light Company at Sherman. This is the fifth voluntary reduction in residential and the sixth in commercial rates by the company. Former reductions were made in 1915, 1916, 1921, 1928 and 1929. Mr. Durning said.

DENNIS WALLER, CANDIDATE FOR STATE TREASURER

Dennis Waller of Trinity county, a candidate for state treasurer on the Democratic ticket in the July 28 primary, was a McKinney business visitor Wednesday, shaking hands and meeting up with a large number of our voters.

Mr. Waller has a genial disposition. His friends predict he will make a strong race. He is a brother of the late Rex Waller, well known over the state and a former candidate for the office.

In speaking of his candidacy, Mr. Waller says, "I am 45 years of age, and have a wife and seven children. I am qualified in every way to fill the office of State Treasurer. This is my first time to seek an elective office."

JIM MORRELL RECENTLY DIED IN ARKANSAS

Postmaster Wallace C. Wilson of McKinney has received the intelligence from Miss Kate Morrell of Farmington, Arkansas, of the death of the latter's father, James Morrell, who passed away on June 6. The deceased was nearing his eighty-fifth birthday at death. He is survived by his wife, six children, eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. He came to McKinney in young manhood and lived with and worked for the late G. A. Wilson and the late Alma Wilson and other early settlers living around McKinney and Princeton. He moved from this county to Sanger, Texas, where he resided until about fifteen years ago, when he moved to Arkansas. Jim Morrell was known to many of our older citizens. He was a man of sociable turn, of outspoken conviction and a boon companion. This editor is among his many old friends in this part of Texas to mourn his passing.

The Gleaner's class of the First Christian church met for the regular monthly social meeting Tuesday in the home of Mrs. W. C. Patterson with Mrs. Add Wilson, Mrs. Sam Hill, Mrs. Jim Lewis and Mrs. Jere Lewis as assisting hostesses. After a very interesting and helpful business meeting, Mrs. Patterson presented Mrs. H. A. Finch Jr., who very charmingly reviewed "The House of Exile" by Nora Waln. An entertaining diversion was then presented, Mrs. Jim Goodner receiving the prize. The hostesses also remembered the guest of the afternoon with a lovely gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Alwin Hines, while in San Antonio recently, visited Rev. John McWilliams, chaplain in the United States Army, who is being treated in a San Antonio hospital for a broken leg that he sustained several weeks ago in a fall from his horse. Rev. Mr. McWilliams was reared in McKinney, being a son of Mrs. Belle McWilliams and a brother of Mrs. Annabel McKey.

When you are wearing out shoes, remember you are wearing out your money. Any shoe is only as good as its worst part. Be sure then that the vital parts of your shoes are the best. We sell no other kind. But the best in quality and workmanship and in prices that will compete with any reputable shoe house.—J. A. Winters, McKinney's leading shoe man.

YOUR TOM E HOWN

SEEN HERE AND THERE

We've discovered a new "racket." If that is the proper wording; we were visited this morning by a resident of near McKinney selling frogs legs; well, as someone told us the other day, they're good if you like them . . . Mrs. F. E. Woodruff honors our office with a welcome visit this morning . . . Miss Bill Hall, a good friend, going about town with a big smile for every friend and acquaintance . . . These days may be hot and sultry, but we're fortunate in one respect: the nights are fairly cool and comfortable . . . Mrs. Howard Butler comes by for a welcome visit . . . County Farm Agent Jack McCullough will soon enjoy a visit in Detroit, going as a representative of the Rotary club to the Rotary convention; what a grand time that hard-working county official should have on his visit . . . Another thing: they tell us that the world's fair at Chicago is far more popular this year than last . . . After a hard day's work nothing makes you feel more refreshed than a cool bath; and are bathtubs popular this kind of weather!

ENDEAVORERS

When McKinney folks set out to do anything, they really put it over in a big way. Take for example, the State Christian Endeavor convention which met in San Antonio last week. A total of thirty-five Endeavorers made the long trip from McKinney and Collin county to the state meet and greatly enjoyed the affair. Several Endeavorers were honored at this meeting which was attended by several hundred young people.

CONGRESSMAN RAYBURN

Hon. Sam Rayburn, Congressman from this, the Fourth Texas Congressional district, was greatly honored recently by his committee—the Interstate and Foreign Commerce group, of which he is chairman, and which is one of the three most powerful committees in the house. Members of this committee, in the number of nineteen, met and presented Congressman Rayburn with a beautiful gold watch, inscribed "In honor and esteem of Chairman Sam Rayburn, House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, Seventy-Third Congress." The presentation speech was made by Congressman Joseph Monaghan of Montana, Democrat and long a friend of Mr. Rayburn. This is the second gold watch that Congressman Rayburn has been presented with, the Texas Legislature presenting him with one at the completion of his term as Speaker of the House about twenty-three years ago.

EPWORTH LEAGUERS

The Joy-Makers Epworth League Union had a wonderful time Tuesday night, meeting down in beautiful Finch park in their regular annual picnic and monthly business meeting combined. Following a business session and the devotional, games and refreshments were enjoyed by a large number of members and visitors present. The Joy-Makers League is one of the most active young peoples' organizations in the county and one which is always up and doing something for the good of the young people of the various communities of the county where such a league is in force.

MORE ABOUT BASEBALL

The second half of the City Diamond Softball league will commence next Monday, June 25. With all teams in the league strengthened and some of the weaker teams starting the season now listed among the strongest contenders, the race looks like a toss-up, which is what all the managers and captains have hoped for. The Press-Faculty team, which swept the first half, will be weakened considerably during the last half because of the absence of some of its players, while the Jaycees No. 1 and No. 2 figure to be stronger, the Athletic club is improving constantly and the Firemen are always dangerous. The American Legion team seems to be playing the most consistently good game in the league right now, and we are sure they will not finish on the bottom again this last half.

If the thermometer goes to 107 degrees in June, we are just wondering what July and August will see in the way of high mercury readings.

WOMBLE

I bought a Plymouth because IT IS SO SAFE"

"We have Two Children . . ."
THAT IS WHY SAFETY-STEEL BODIES MEAN A LOT"

Our Plymouth owners include a good many ladies. Of course, all of them are enthusiastic about the new Plymouth ride.

But they also prefer Plymouth because it is so safe. In a Plymouth they know they and their children are protected.

Everyone knows that under shocks that would break wood into jagged splinters, steel stands up. Plymouth Safety-Steel Bodies are steel, reinforced with steel.

Hydraulic Brakes stop a car quicker—without swerving—because they take hold equally on all four wheels. Ask any of our Plymouth owners if he would drive without them. Safety Glass on the De Luxe Sedan is only $10.00 extra.

Exclusive . . .
Among the lowest price cars, only Plymouth has this type of Individual Wheel Springing. Note the large coil spring as used on highest price cars.

Check up on safety. And check up on the 1934 Plymouth ride. Learn for yourself why so many people you know have changed to Plymouth.

OCAL DAIRY RAISES ONIONS AND STOCK BEETS

Apple's Dairy, located at Fair-iew, crossroads of the pikes, ree miles south of McKinney, am Apple, proprietor, has one f the best stock beet crops that his editor has ever seen. He has ne-and-a-third acres in the crop. ney are planted in rows and me of them are bowled almost rge enough to feed now.

He expects to begin feeding his ration, along with his other ed, to his milch cows about the rst of July. It is marvelous how rolifically stock beets grow in ch black land soil. He has made much as thirty to forty tons r acre in former years. Prosects of his present crop are qually as good. He pulls them as eeded and chops them up and, s stated above, feeds them to his ows along with their balanced ation that he knows so well w to mix—cottonseed meal, round, corn and oats, wheat ans, ground alfalfa and other gredients mixed in the proper roportion and weighed out in a niform way to each cow at ev-y feeding, morning and night.

Mr. Apple also had a little ore than an acre of onions anted, which made a good yield nd which he has already sold.

Mr. Apple's dairy contains bout thirty acres. He sows part it in cover crops for pasture nd part of it is in Bermuda rass with native bois d 'arc and ackberry trees growing on part it for needed and necessary ade for his cows.

Mr. Apple's dairy is modernly quipped.

His milking barn has concrete oor and feeding troughs, steel anchions with plenty of win-ows and light all around.

After each milking, the barn flushed out with water the same the milk and bottling room hich stand nearby, and spray-. Sunlight is provided in both ildings.

Modern cooling and bottling uipment are used, thus assur-g patrons of this dairy the ost sanitary and richest whole ilk possible to produce.

Mr. Apple regularly has his ttle tested.

He and his sons understand the re and feeding of Jersey cat-to perfection. They will keep thing but the choicest of milch ws, most of their herd being rebred and registered animals. Every milk patron of our city ould visit their dairy plant at y time and see for himself or rself to what perfection milk produced by the Apple dairy, hich has been a regular adver-ing patron of this paper in ery issue for more than twenty ars.

VERY FARM HOME SHOULD HAVE A BERRY PATCH

"I have put up 100 quarts of rries this year," Mrs. J. T. risham, president of the Verona me Demonstration club, told ss Helen Dunlap, county home monstration club agent. She ds that every farm home should ve a berry patch to help fur-h fruit for the table. She tes that berries are almost al-ys a sure crop, producing fruit actically every summer.

Mrs. Grisham reports having nned a total of 179 quarts of uits and vegetables so far this ar and says she continues to r foods each day.

Mrs. Grisham was yard dem-strator of her club in 1932. She marked, 'So many people just ok and look at my yard as they ss. They say they think my assy lawn and shrubbery about e house help to make our home ry attractive. One woman said never before saw the flower rden in the back. I like it so ch better, but two years ago thought it queer, too. Now when flowers are past their useful-ss in the winter the public esn't seem them."

In the flower garden Mrs. Gris-m had 12 different flowers in om. She says she wants blos-ms from early in the spring un-ate in the fall.

PRESIDENT SUDAN BANK

J. M. GAY
of McKinney, Texas.

J. MASTON GAY PRESIDENT SUDAN NATIONAL BANK

J. M. Gay is in McKinney spending a few days with his wife and children at their home on Tucker street. He reports excellent crop prospects on the 24,000 acre Newsome Farms in Lamb and Bailey counties, which he is looking after and has been in charge of for several years. He is running about 700 acres of the land himself with 270 acres in cotton and the rest in corn and other feed products.

On a visit to the Newsome Farms last fall this editor was astonished at the fertility of the soil and its productiveness. Lots of the Newsome land made as much as a bale per acre last year.

Mr. Gay maintains his office headquarters in Sudan, which is a thrifty little town with some very creditable big stores and business concerns. It has a bank, the First National, with $25,000 capital and a surplus which is rated as one of the soundest smaller banks of the Lower Plains country. Mr. Gay has the honor of being its president, having been recently advanced from its vice-presidency to its official head.

In our opinion, the Newsome lands offers one of the most attractive opportunities for a renter to buy a home of his own that is now open to the landless man who is an actual farmer that can be found anywhere in the entire state.

WIRE, CABLE RADIO UNDER GOVT. CONTROL

Following the plan of Congressman Sam Rayburn, President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Congress gave complete Federal supervision of the field of utilities furnishing communications by wire, cable, wireless or radio in a new act recently passed. This act which gives the Government control of all communication systems settles the fight of many years between advocates of control and governmental ownership.

Several years ago, Representative Sam Rayburn of this, the Fourth Texas District, now chairman of the House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, made a study of the communications situation, with a view to bringing it under a governmental agency similar to the Interstate Commerce Commission in its supervisions of rail and water transportation. The new law follows closely the framework of the commerce act.

Before Mr. Roosevelt took office, Mr. Rayburn conferred with him at Hyde Park and Warm Springs and found himself in agreement with the President-elect as to policy in this regulation. For many years, the industry had been subject disjointed supervision by different governmental agencies. The Interstate Commerce Commission had jurisdiction over common carriers giving wire and wireless service, but had never concentrated on this field.

The new controlling act is expected to greatly aid communications system of all kinds from all angles.

C. E. Talkington, wife and daughter, Miss Gladys, of Norman, Oklahoma, spent the week-end visiting relatives in McKinney. Mrs. Talkington is the daughter of Mrs. J. W. Scott of this city, and a sister of Prof. F. M. Scott. They came mainly at this time to visit their brother-in-law, Lyman Perkins, a business man of Hearne, who is a patient in a Dallas hospital. Mr Perkins remains quite ill.

Mrs. C. D. Ward of Dallas spent the week-end in McKinney visiting her son-in-law, Prof. F. M. Scott, and family, and his mother, Mrs. J. W. Scott, and other relatives here where she formerly lived.

GRAPE CUTTINGS, JANUARY PLANTED, ARE STILL LIVING

"Twenty-two of our thirty eight grape cuttings planted last January are living," Mrs. J. T. Isom, secretary of the Franklin Home Demonstration club, told Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration club agent. Last January Miss Dunlap gave demonstrations to the home demonstration clubs in the county, showing them how to start grape vines from cuttings and how to start berry patches as a means of using some of the released cotton acreage. Mrs. Isom is pleased that so many of her cuttings are living and Mr. Isom has started cultivating them as a means of inducing better growth of the plants.

Last January, Mr. Isom reset the berry vines from the garden to a spot which in rainy times is apt to wash. By this means he hoped to help hold the soil by the plants, which he now states has been very satisfactory. From these vines he expects to have a few berries for home use soon.

Besides the grape cuttings, Mrs Isom has seventy living shrubs cuttings that were planted this past winter. She expects to use them in foundation plantings about her house this fall. They include ligustrum, euonymus, lodence, jasamine dumile and bridal wreath.

WYLIE IS VERY BUSY SAVING ONION CROP

Approximately 100 cars of onions had been shipped out of the Wylie section of the famous East Collin blackland region through Saturday night, June 9, according to accurate information. Good prices were being paid by a large number of buyers who have found the Wylie section, which has gone in extensively for raising more onions this year, to produce a fine yield of the white or sweet variety. There are several buying agencies located at Wylie now. A number of cars are being shipped out daily. Some of the farm owned by Joyce, Alexander and Shugart near Wylie has been producing as high as 300 bushels of onions per acre. This is a rich, farming area in and around Wylie, and the little Southeast Collin town is boomtaug with a flood of new workmen and much better business from the effects of the excellent onion harvest.

SUCCESSFUL ONION MAN SAYS COLLIN PRODUCT POPULAR

While on a visit, Tuesday afternoon, at the two McKinney railroad depots where onion screening, packing, marketing and loading onto freight cars are energetically proceeding now in their busiest season, this editor met up with our longtime friend, J. A. Miller of Farmersville, in the firm of Miller Bros., onion seed producers, plant growers, onion growers, buyers and shippers in practically all of the onion growing areas of Texas.

Our inquiry of him about the local market for farmers elicited the information that No. 1 onions were bringing from 90 cents to $1.00 per bushel and No. 2's from 60 to 70 cents per bushel, which are considered reasonably fair prices to the onion growers. He says the Yellow onions are bringing from $1.00 to $1.20 per bushel—a premium over the White onion. However, the white onions greatly predominate in this producing area, says Mr. Miller. In his opinion the acreage in the McKinney area was considerably increased this year over that of last, but the par acre yield average is considerably lighter.

Mr. Miller and his brother are pioneer growers of seed, plant and onions especially in this section of our state.

He would be mighty glad to see McKinney business interests wake up to the possibilities of onion growing in this fine blackland soil in every direction from our city.

Princeton, Farmersville and other points in east and southeast Collin have been more alert than McKinney along this line in encouraging farmers to plant more onions and help develope our county into a more widely known and important onion growing area.

He says that the quality of onions grown here, this year, are par excellent. The product is a favorite on the market and with a little more exploitation by McKinney, similar to that of Farmersville, Princeton and other onion growing centers of Southwest Texas, Collin county can be put on the map in a really big way as an onion growing section known and catered after by onion wholesalers the world over.

A. C. Bullock, Sr., popular and well-liked painter and contractor, is repainting, repapering Roy Roberts' home on Lee Street. Other improvements in the way of putting in hardwood floors, etc., are also being made. Mr. Roberts is a member of the Ray & Roberts company, Fire met.

ELD. R. C. HORN PAYS TRIBUTE TO DECEASED FRIEND

Eld. R. C. Horn contributes the following facts concerning the life of the late Mrs. Ann Eliza Waters of Carthage, Missouri, who was the mother of W. N. Waters of Allen and is the grandmother of Mrs. Add G. Wilson of McKinney. Eld. Horn says:

A few days ago the Death Messenger removed from life here, one among the oldest persons known to the writer. Mrs. Ann Eliza Waters, of Carthage, Mo. She had lived nearly a century. At the time of her death she had seen ninety-eight years and five months of life here. She was a daughter of Uncle Davis O'Brien, Sr., and a sister of the late Dave Will O'Brien, who was for many years a resident of McKinney. She was married to John Waters in her young womanhood, and was the mother of W. N. Waters of Allen and J. A. Waters, father of Mrs. Add Wilson of McKinney.

John Waters came to Texas from Missouri at an early day and for several years lived on the Ed Stiff farm, a few miles northwest from McKinney, and was one of the early elders of the Huckberry Christian church that later was called the Vineland church. He was living there in 1875 when I officiated at the marriage of his oldest daughter, Ann Eliza to my brother, C. Nick Horn. John Waters later purchased a farm west of Allen, where he resided until some time in 1884 or '85, when he returned to Missouri, where he died a few years after my brother, Nick, his son-in-law, was shot dead on the way from his store to his home. I never saw him after I made that visit to my brother's family.

One son, Henry Waters and one daughter, Annie, lived in Carthage and cared for their mother during her old age. She had been blind for several years. She had long been a Christian.

Only a few of us are old enough to conceive of the changes that have taken place since she could remember. She lived to be a grandmother before she heard of electric lights or any light except tallow candles. She was raised to walk, ride a horse or in a wagon, yet she lived to see electric lights, gas heaters, automobiles, air planes and talking machines of many kinds. She has seen a new world. And all those changes the work of man who some scientists tell us sprang from a lower species. What have the so-called ancestors of man discovered?

A long and useful life here has ended to enter an endless one.

Several of the O'Briens lived to an unusual old age, but I do not call to mind any who lived to the extreme age of Mrs. Waters.

Pioneer life gave us more old men and women than this age will give us. People today are living too fast and hence run their course in less time than these pioneers. They lived an active life and ate wholesome food and labored during the day and slept at night. A very small per cent of people now pass 80 years. People now are riding to their grave. God created man to labor and sentenced him to eat his bread by the sweat of his body. If you prefer only a few years here, you are on the right road to that end. It takes longer for a machine to wear out than to rust out.

Mrs. Dr. E. L. Burton is laid up the last day or two with a slight attack of fever.

County Tax Assessor O. T. Christie of Hardeman county was here from Quanah recently, visiting relatives. He is a brother of Mrs. B. C. Cook of McKinney and of Mrs. Jake Gidding of Allen. Mr. Christie is a son of the late County Commissioner C. M. (Lone) Christie, an old Allen pioneer citizen of revered memory. Mr. Christie's mother, who is in her eighties, is now visiting at the home of her son, at Quanah. Her other children are Mrs. C. K. Peters of Greenville, F. R. (Chotte) Christie, a merchant of Dublin; Charle M. Christie of Abilene and Jesse M. Christie of Quanah.

Dan Lee McKinney of Springfield, Missouri, is visiting his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Garnett McKinney. Mr. and Mrs. McKinney also have as their guest, Mrs. Agnes McDonald of Austin.

Mrs. D. M. Kelley of Westminster and daughter, Mrs. Roy Kirby, were business visitors in McKinney Wednesday. Mrs. Kelley was born and reared in the Cottage Hill community, being a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Morrill and a sister of Mrs. Robert W. Gribble of this city.

THE CANNING INDUSTRY.

In his order approving a code of fair competition for the canning industry, President Roosevelt required the industry to appoint a committee "to cooperate with the National Recovery Administrator in the formulation of standards of quality of products of the industry and to make recommendations to the Administrator with in 90 days for inclusion in the code of provisions with respect to such standards and labelling requirements."

When the President was 24 years younger, as a State Senator in New York, he made a valiant and vigorous effort to secure the enactment of legislation to regulate the canning industry. He urged upon his colleagues the need for requiring definite labels on containers, not only to inform consumers as to their contents, but as evidence that the product was properly graded. That was in 1910. He continued his endeavor with convincing argument until he came to Washington in 1913, but his fight was futile. Now he can foresee his purpose on the way to accomplishment under a code.

The utilization of codes to secure long-needed reforms is a fixed habit with the President, as first demonstrated in his approval of Code No. 1, that for the cotton-textile industry. In that and every subsequent code, child labor has been brought to the irreducible minimum.

The story of the timber conservation plan incorporated in the lumber and timber-products code, applying rigid rules for protection of 400,000,000 acres of commercially owned forests, was told recently at the annual convention of the National-American Wholesale Lumber Association by Wilson Compton, president of American Forests Products Industries. Mr. Compton said: "A year ago, President Roosevelt asked the forest-products industries, in any codes they might submit, to include 'effective protection against destructive forest exploitation' and we have done so. In consultation with the interested public agencies, we have developed a conservation plan which they and we believe to be practicable and which the President himself has generously described as 'one of the greatest accomplishments of the past year.' "

Onion growing has forged to the front, this year, as one of the major industries of Collin county. Our blackland soil is a choice dirt for Crystal White and Yellow Bermudas to grow to perfection with their flavor, size, form and preservative qualities making them a favorite. Various shipping points in the county—McKinney, Farmersville, Princeton, Melissa, Allen, Plano, Celina, Wylie, Copeville, Nevada, Josephine and Lavon—are in the midst of their busiest part of the season. Collin will likely send out more than a thousand carloads to the Northern and Eastern markets and many for cold storage, locally, and at other points in the state this year. Incidentally, labor is provided for scores of hitherto unemployed breadwinners. Who can say that the onion deal is not a lift for our great agricultural county?

Now that the last date for filing among county candidates has been passed, and all candidates know whom their opponents will be, politics should warm up a little more as the time draws nearer to the first primary election next month. According to some observers with whom we've conversed, there's been less interest shown in the various political rases thus far this year than for many years past. Perhaps the political pot will begin simmering, however, when the candidates begin their speaking engagements over the county.

The Denton County Jersey Club will give its annual picnic near Denton, on July 18. Dr. Chas. W. Estes, formerly of McKinney, is president of the club. Collin county Jersey breeders and farmers generally have an invitation to attend. The Jersey breeding industry is beginning to pick up some now. A good Jersey milk cow is a literal bread basket for your family—providing the most wholesome of all human foods. Collin county has long appreciated good Jersey cattle. We are glad to note that our sister county on the west is also wide-awake to their importance.

Farm women all over Collin are busy now with their pressure canners. A good garden gives them something to can and store away for use next winter. There are more pressure canners in Collin county than any other county in the state. They will be kept busy now for the next four or five months, canning vegetables, berries, fruits of all kinds and later on canning meats.

McKinney stores are stocked with clean, well selected modern merchandise. Competition is keen between the merchants. Shoppers from a wide scope of country are coming here to trade—and there is a good reason for their doing so, too.

Every Collin county farm should have on it one or more good brood mares. Farmers should have some choice young work horses and mules coming on all the time. It pays to care for your brood mares.

Congress adjourned Monday night, June 18, after a rather long drawn out session. It is generally agreed that with Congress out of the way there will be a season of business stimulation. As has been said, that strange but potent force known as "business psychology" in the past week showed some improvement. It is more cheerful, less gloomy and a general improvement may be expected to continue in a slow but steady way. It is believed that this has been a fairly good Congress. It has met the situation in a wise and level headed way. Nothing very radical was done. President Roosevelt continues to inspire overwhelming confidence in his leadership, and he deserves every whit of that confidence reposed in him. He is surely leading the nation out of the slough of despond onto firmer ground and normal conditions once more.

Being able to sell one's goods, services, or ideas, is in a sense the true definition of real salesmanhip. But, did you ever notice how much easier salesmen, who sell well advertised products, dispose of their stock. The psychology of advertising is closely akin to the psychology of the newspaper. We have often heard eye witnesses tell of certain sensational appenings and then have their listeners tell them they would wait and receive their paper to be sure about the facts. That is the psychology of the newspaper, reliability built upon the solid foundation of decades of accurate news reporting. The same is true of advertising. People have come to know that what is advertised in the right manner in good daily and weekly newspapers has a character worth defending and worth depending on. Does your product or your retail stock or your services or your ideas have an "advertising character?" Ours does; that is why we are urging you McKinney business, mercantile, retail and wholesale leaders to use the advertising columns of the Daily Courier-Gazette and the Weekly Democrat-Gazette with liberality.

A few days after the National Recovery Act went into effect, President Roosevelt stated that although it was hailed at the time as the nation's saviour, a backfire might be felt in many quarters, which would fail to cooperate. The President was right, and he was also right when he said that there would be enough, courageous, forward looking business and industrial leaders to use the NRA as the greatest spoke in the wheel of recovery.

Commercial failures in Texas for the first four months of 1934 numbered 98 with liabilities at $1,439,000, compared with 225 failures for the first four months of 1933 with liabilities of $3,846,00. This reflects a decisive improvement in business conditions prevailing in the Lone Star state during the past twelve months.

Automobile tire manufacturer says rubber gets tired. We've often seen it stretch.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. B Gambrell, residing on North Tennessee street, were happy the past weekend in having all of their children at home. Mr. Gambrell is a rural mail carrier out of McKinney and a former Collin county school teacher. Those here to enjoy the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Milligan and three sons of Oklahoma, Mrs. Bryant Gambrell and daughter, Helen, of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Orr of Colorado, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Groves and daughter, Joan, and two sons at home, Joe and Bill Gambrell. A good time was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Joe Groves and little daughter, Joan, are spending some time here with their parents and grandparents, Mr. Groves being busy with a pipeline company in East Texas at this time.

Rev. George A. Dale, pastor of the First Baptist church, at Macili, Oklahoma, recently closed a two weeks meeting at the Wescom Baptist church in East Texas, Rev. Boyd R. Young, pastor. Singing was led during the excellent meeting by Earl W. Rogers of Jacksonville, Texas. The meeting resulted in twenty-seven additions to the church. Rev. Mr. Dale was invited back again next year to hold a revival for the same church. Rev. George A. Dale was reared near Culleoka in Colin county. He has developed into one of the most successful and most beloved ministers of the Baptist church.

Tom M. Scott, wife and daughter, Shirley, are having a wonderful trip to Virginia and other points in the Northeast. Mr. Scott went to attend the twenty-fifth class reunion of his class in the Virginia Military Institute, at Lexington, Virginia, of which he was president. We received a card from him, a picture of the old cabin home on the Washington farm. It was in this home that Augustine Washington, the father of George Washington, died on April 12, 1743, aged 49 years. It is situated opposite Fredericksburg and was known then as the "Ferry Farm." The picture shows the only building remaining which is said to have been used by Washington, who was then 11 years old, as a workshop while acquiring practice surveying.

Federal control of the oil industry was urged by W. Gregory Hatcher, candidate for State railroad Commissioner, in an address made in McKinney Saturday afternoon. Mr. Hatcher who made a good race for the same office in 1932, being in the run-off, was heard by a good-sized crowd. Summing up his position, he declared that he favored Federal regulation of oil production in any case where the State did not exercise its authority to control the output of a great natural resource.

Sheriff G. J. S. Walker and grandson, Glen Walker Massie have returned from Midland Texas, where they went recently to get a prisoner who was wanted at McKinney.

F. Less White, who has a clothing and shoe store establishment on South Tennessee street, has returned home from a two or three days' visit to his son-in-law and daughter, Prof. and Mrs. Jim Cantrell, at Colorado, Mitchell county, West Texas. Mr. White greatly enjoyed his visit to his children.

Hoyt Copeland, who has been taking the rest cure at the home of his parents in Blue Ridge, is now able to be up, to the delight of his many friends.

PIONEER M'KINNEY TEACHER AND CULTURED CHRISTIAN MOTHER PASSES TO A RICH REWARD

MRS. THOS. H. MUSE, 88, WIDOW OF CONFEDERATE SOLDIER, DIED THURSDAY NIGHT; LIFELONG MEMBER CHRISTIAN CHURCH—CAME HERE AS TEACHER ABOUT 70 YEARS AGO—TWO OF HER SONS ARE McKINNEY LAWYERS.

Mrs. Thos. H. Muse, aged 88 years, 4 months and 5 days, passed to a rich reward at 11:00 o'clock Thursday night, June 14, at her late residence, 1301 North Waddill street, this city, after a period of declining strength due to advancing age. Her passing was as gentle and calm as the coming of a babe's sleep in the arms of its mother. However, the family were apprised of the near approach of dissolution. All of her children and several of her grandchildren were present except two sons, Tom H. Muse Jr. of Peoria, Illinois, who was called back home from her bedside a short time before her death and another son, Albert M. Muse, who arrived from San Antonio shortly after her peaceful passing.

Horn, an intimate friend of the Muse family for nearly three quarters of a century, assisted by Dr. Mirror Bounds of the First Methodist church. Interment took place in Pecan Grove cemetery, under the direction of the Sam J. Massie Funeral home. Her body was laid to rest beside the grave of her companion who preceded her in death, a little more than ten years ago and at whose side she had walked as a dutiful and loving wife for three years more than a half century when he died January 10, 1924.

Active pallbearers: John W. Berry, G. T. Berry, W. I. Bryan, George Morris, T. L. (Lou) Roberts, L. J. Truett, O. W. Davidson and Walter B. Wilson.

A Cultured Christian Woman.

Miss Mary Belle Bentley, daughter of James and Mary Jane (Helm) Bentley, was born February 9, 1846, near Danville, Kentucky, where she was partly reared to young womanhood. In that period, before the coming of public free schools, she received her elementary education under private tutors and then attended Daughters' College, at Harrodsburg, Kentucky. About the time of the outbreak of the Civil war in the early sixties, her parents and family emigrated to Texas, settling near Waco, where she attended Waco Female Seminary and then entered Baylor university under the famous old Baptist minister and pioneer educator, Dr. Rufus C. Burleson, president. As that school was then not a co-educational institution, a special permit was granted her in order that she might pursue her advanced courses in Latin, Greek, French and German. At the recommendation of Dr. Burleson she was employed by Eld. J. S. Muse, about the close of the Civil war, as teacher of Mathematics, Latin and Greek in the old Mount Pleasant Academy, founded, owned and managed by Eld. Muse, a pioneer Collin county minister of the Christian church and educator. She taught in this seat of learning for McKinney and this section of North Texas for several years. Eld. Muse, himself, teaching the elementary and lower grades. The old Mount Pleasant Academy stood on the spot of land, just across the street from her home where she died, the site being occupied now by the big two-story home of her son, Hon. James M. Muse, and wife. She was unusually well educated for a woman of those early times. She loved teaching and made an outstanding success of the profession. Many of our pioneer settlers were under her instructions as pupils from about sixty to seventy years ago.

Married January 10, 1871.

Miss Bentley was happily united in marriage, January 10, 1871, to the late Tom H. Muse, son of Elder J. S. Muse, in whose academy she was teaching. Her husband enlisted in the Confederacy at McKinney, making a gallant soldier throughout the war. Soon after their marriage, they bought their splendid farm about three miles northwest of McKinney on which they resided and had their happy home until about 1918 when Mr. Muse built a residence on Waddill Hill in Northwest McKinney where he and his wife were destined to reside during the remainder of their lives. They reared a fine family of children of whom the following survive: Hon. James M. Muse, McKinney lawyer; Tom H. Muse Jr., business man of Peoria, Illinois; Hon. Mort W. Muse, McKinney lawyer; Prof. Edward W. Muse, 124 North Edgefield, Dallas, where he has been teaching for twenty years, being now principal of Rosemont school, that city; Roger Bentley Muse, Oklahoma City business man; Joe Russell Muse, 1023 South Henderson, Fort Worth business man; Albert M. Muse, Alamo National bank, San Antonio, who is an expert public auditor; Miss Jane Slaughter Muse, at home who has devoted her life to helping take care of her parents, and Mrs. W. C. Adair, formerly Miss Fannie Waddill Muse, 217 South Willomet, Dallas, also by sixteen grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. She was the last of a family of two girls and two boys. One of her brothers, Mordecai Bentley, a young lawyer, was accidentally killed while preparing to enter the Confederate service. Her other brother, George W. Bentley, also a lawyer and a Confederate soldier, served as Mayor of McKinney for a time following the Civil war. Her sister, was Mrs. Eddie Bentley Sears. All are deceased, she being the last member of her father's family to pass away.

A Shining Light.

When death finally extinguished her spark of life she was in her eighty-ninth year and where can be found another person of her age in our county, who touched the life of the community and county in the period from fifty to seventy years ago, at so many vital points as did the life of this cultured teacher, devoted Christian wife, mother and grandmother. From the cultural standpoint, Mrs. Muse entered with all her strength and influence into the local schools of McKinney in her young womanhood and helped her distinguished pioneer father-in-law advance the cause of education and Christianity, centering at McKinney for all this section in a way that impressed our pioneer settlers for the noble, the good, the pure in heart and development of intellect. She was an untiring and brilliant leader in school and literary circles and in all the better things of life. She was the very embodiment of loyal devotion, lofty sentiment and modest, queenly womanhood. The spirit that permeated her work in the school and life in the home in rearing and educating her children was that which she caught from the example of Jesus of Nazareth in whom she believed and whom she unswervingly served. She was always a perfect, gracious hostess. Everything that was beautiful and noble in life had in her a most zealous and ardent champion. Indeed, she left a shining example as an inspiration and ideal to strive for by her large number of descendants and wide circle of adoring friends and acquaintances. Rich in years and full of fruitage meet for the Kingdom, she has been translated to that better world where the inhabitants thereof never age, decrepitude and sorrow never come and the partings are unknown.

Miss Mae Hill, one of the teachers in the L. A. Scott Junior High school, is taking a course of study in Austin college, Sherman, this summer. Her mother, Mrs. J. H. Hill, will go to Sherman Sunday to spend a few days with her daughter.

MUCH COOLER THAN YOUR HOME

Most all private homes are so uncomfortably warm when holding funeral services on hot days. Again this suggests the use of Harris funeral Home, because cooling systems have been installed as well as electric fans through-out the parlors, which aids lots in giving comfort for bereaved families and their friends.

This is a commendable service which cannot be carried into private homes but is to be greatly appreciated by all those who avail themselves of the many advantages offered by Harris'.

There are a large number of good reasons why you should patronize the Harris Funeral Home and exercise your influence for them. Other reasons will be published.

JOE MOORE

Greenville, Hunt County, Texas
FOR
Lieutenant Governor
Democratic Primary, July 28, 1934

"The People's Friend"

Fourteen years' continuous service in the House and Senate from Hunt, Rains, Rockwall and Collin Counties.

IN GOVERNMENT FOR ECONOMY

GREENVILLE HAS RALLY FOR SEN. JOE M. MOORE

Hunt county citizens staged a hometown rally for State Senator Joe M. Moore in the district courtroom of the courthouse, at Greenville, Saturday night, June 16, at which they paid tribute to their home candidate for Lieutenant-Governor of Texas with excellent prospects of success before him.

The meeting was presided over by Ellis Hardy, a Greenville business man, whose wife was formerly Miss Willie Stiff, who was born and reared in McKinney. He introduced Morris Harrell of Greenville whose speech forcibly set forth the importance of the constitutional office of Lieutenant-Governor. He stated that the incumbent of this office should have every qualification that a Governor has. He then reviewed the career of Senator Joe M. Moore in the State Legislature, which he declared is a demonstration of his ability to serve the people of Texas, ably and fairly, as presiding officer of Texas' highest lawmaking body and to fill the office of Governor when the Chief Executive is out of the state or should be incapacipated in any way or should die in office. He told how Mr. Moore, who was left fatherless when a boy by the death of his father who was a Baptist minister, and the youth diligently worked for an education and to help support his widowed mother and the other younger children.

Senator Moore responded briefly and was deeply affected by the tribute of his home county people and the other counties of his Senatorial District who had sent delegations to join in the occasion of promoting his candidacy.

Senator Moore is making an active canvass of the entire state and is meeting with much encouragement wherever he goes among the voters and predicts that he will triumph at the Democratic Primary of July 28.

Collin county sent several of her citizens to the rally, two of them, Mayor Joe E. Largent and A. Hardy Eubanks, made rousing talks, pledging Collin's support for Senator Moore in an almost unanimous way. Mayor Largent is County Chairman of the Moore forces for this county and is trying to get a Joe Moore Club organized in every voting box.

He and Hardy Eubanks, who is a prominent McKinney banker, civic leader and Good Roads Chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, both personally testified to the influence and patriotic service that Senator Moore exerts in the legislative halls at Austin, for the advancement of good roads and every other interest of his district and state. Senator Moore married a Collin county girl, Miss Stelzer of Celina.

Among others from McKinney present were former Sheriff Ed Blakeman and wife, Mr. Blakeman now being Chairman of the County Democratic Executive Committee; Hon. Roland Boyd, Secretary of the Joe Moore for Lieutenant-Governor Central Collin County Club; Add G. Wilson, president of the Central State bank and one of McKinney's two City Commissioners; Henry W. Warden, vice-president of the Collin County National bank; Judge Wallace Hughston, J. D. White, Walter B. Wilson, one of the editors of this paper; J. W. Purcell; W. M. Burgess and perhaps others whose faces we failed to note.

A fine nine-pound baby boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wendle Henslee in this city Sunday morning. The baby has been named Gilbert Lee. Mr. and Mrs. Henslee are also the parents of a sweet little two-year old daughter, Barbara Ann. The young mother will be remembered as Miss Annie Belcher of this city before her marriage. The happy young parents are receiving congratulations from their multitude of friends upon the arrival of their fine young son.

J. A. Carrell, who owns some good city property here and also a fine farm near the city, is having his city property improved. Mr. Carrell is one of our most substantial citizens.

Chess Waters is up and about. All his friends are glad to see him. No finer man than Chess Waters.

A MARVELOUS TRANSFORMATION IN PALESTINE

J. M. Rayzor, Denton business man, says that Palestine has undergone a marvelous transformation. He visited Palestine a few years ago when he said it was difficult for him to understand why God told Moses that it was a land that flowed with milk and honey. Revelations since seem to bear out that prophecy.

Prior to the advent of the Anglo-Saxons, Palestine was handicapped by a scarcity of water, fuel and industrial power, but since, these conditions have been revolutionized. When the allied army began its invasions into Palestine the Turks boasted that they would hold Jerusalem until the River Nile flowed through its streets. The day the Anglo-Saxons entered Jerusalem the water of the Nile did flow through its streets! To supply the army with water in its march through the Arabian desert and Palestine, a pipe line, beginning at the Nile in Egypt, was constructed along the route of the army to supply it with water; the army could move no faster than the line could be constructed, hence the army and the waters of the Nile entered Jerusalem simultaneously.

Since the World war, the Anglo-Saxons have remade Palestine—from a miserable despotism it has become "A land flowing with milk and honey." Palestine has made greater progress in the last 14 years than in 1,900 years before. Colleges, universities and hospitals are springing up overnight; millions of forest trees have been planted; the finest port and most formidable fort upon the Eastern Coast of the Mediterranean have just been completed at Jaffe (Joppa).

The potentiality of the Jordan and the Dead Sea are Palestine's greatest asset. From the sea of Galilee to the Dead Sea, the Jordan has a descent of 700 feet, and between the two seas, there is to impound water enough to irrigate the desert lands, and furnish unlimited industrial power. At this time American and British capital is constructing two great power plants on the Jordan just below the Sea of Galilee, and when completed they will be an inestimable asset to Palestine. The Dead Sea, until recently had no known value except as a grave for the Jordan, but it is now estimated to be the richest reservoir of wealth in the world. It is an inexhaustible lake of liquid bromide, chloride, potash and gypsum, worth more than the total wealth of the United States. A British syndicate is paying $1,000,000,000 a year for the exclusive right to make and market its products, thousands of tons of which are now moving annually.

American and British capital has built a great museum in Jerusalem to be used to stimulate archeological exploration. Many discoveries of Biblical value have already been made. At Ur, Chaldee, the birth place of Abraham, much evidence has been found confirming the claims of the Bible regarding that ancient city. Upon the peak of Mount Nebo ruins have recently been discovered that are furnishing interesting information; the archeologist in charge is hopeful of finding the Ark of the Covenant in this ruin. Upon the northern shore of the Galilee, where Jesus met His disciples after His resurrection, they have discovered the ruins of a church built in the third century, and on a near-by desert another that commemorates the feeding of the 5,000. At Sebasteh, Samaria, an Israelitish tower, built in the time of King Ahab, together with positive evidence that he was King of Israel, is among the recent findings. The ruins of Old Gaza, built 3000 B. C., has just been discovered; it is releasing much valuable Biblical information. It is among the most important discoveries made in Palestine in recent years. Its crumbling ruins resemble those of Pompeii.

The archeological discoveries confirming the teachings of prophecy are disturbing evolutionists and skeptics. Dwight L. Moody said, "I know of nothing that will upset an honest skeptic sooner than fulfilled prophecy."

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the old home on City Commissioner Chas. M. Bryan's farm, at Chambersville, eight miles north of McKinney, about 4:00 o'clock Friday morning.

Mr. Cate, who lives nearby on the Chambers place who arose a little early that morning saw the flames bursting from the roof over the kitchen and hurried over and awoke the family who were still asleep.

The house was occupied by Mrs. W. S. Hitchcock and family. They lost most of their household effects. The burned structure was partly insured.

Mr. Bryan states that the old farm home was built fifty-nine years ago by his father, the late Jacob M. Bryan. It was a big-two-story frame structure of eight or ten rooms and a hall. It was well built and had been well taken care of and recovered just a fe wyears ago.

PLANO COMING TO FRONT IN ONION GROWING

The onion crop in the Plano area this year, is very satisfactory, in the opinion of G. A. Miller of Princeton, who has been buying there, through this season for the Miller Bros., buying and shipping firm of this county.

This firm which is composed of P. L. Miller of Farmersville and J. A. Miller of Princeton and McKinney, is one of the most extensive onion buying and shipping concerns of the of the county, buying heavily at Princeton, Farmersville, Wylie, McKinney, Plano, and at all onion growing points over the county.

G. A. Miller says that through Saturday morning he had bought and shipped a total of eight and a half carloads of onions in the Plano territory and expected to buy and ship at least a dozen cars before the onion deal is entirely finished this year.

Plano onions, he says, are fine in quality and are bringing good prices. However, that section of the county has never gone in for onion growing as strongly as some other places of this county.

This season, the acreage was probably heavier in that territory than ever before, but the area west of Plano has been terribly damaged b ya long hot, dry spell. That section received none of the recent three-inch rain rain which fell in the McKinney, Princeton, and Farmersville areas with varying intensity. Consequently, the crop was never "made" in that area.

Mr. Miller shipped the first carload of onions out of Plano, Friday, June 8, between 4:00 and 5:00 o'clock. Onions in that section are bringing 95 cents for No. 1 White Bermudas and $1.20 for No. 1 Yellow Bermudas. This first car was a full carload with 600 sacks or bushels. They were government inspected, as all of the Miller Bros. onions are.

Concerning the crop over the entire county and North Texas area, G. A. Miller states that although the acreage was much more this year than ever before, the crop was too light in many places, greatly cutting down the total yield. However, he expects the North Texas area to ship around 800 carloads this season.

Princeton, which is his home town, will alone ship from 130 to 140 cars. That city has been a veritable beehive of activity during the past few weeks with workers camped all around, and all available living space taken up with the onion deal followers.

As many as ten carloads of onions have been piled out in the street there at one time, because of the lack of shipping and shed facilities to handle the bumper crop.

WHITEWRIGHT MERCHANT AND WIFE VISIT HERE

H. F. Thompson, a retired dry goods merchant of Whitewright, and wife, formerly Miss Minnie Berry of McKinney, came over Friday to attend the funeral of the latter's aunt, Mrs. Tom H. Muse. They were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Bryan, the latter and Mrs. Thompson being sisters.

Mr. Thompson is a native of Springfield, Kentucky, while his wife is a native of McKinney, being a sister of Mrs. Bryan also of Mrs. Dr. W. L. Saye of Frisco, G. T. Berry of McKinney and John W. Berry of Melissa.

Mr. Thompson first came to McKinney in 1871 and for several years worked on and around McKinney for such pioneers as the late Capt. Tuck Hill, the late Capt. W. A. Rhea, the late Tom H. Muse, and he was also a friend of the late George Curtsinger. Sam Curtsinger, who is in the drug business now at Frisco, and John Curtsinger who now lives at Bolivar, Denton county. Mr. Thompson went from here to Whitewright to attend Grayson college. He located and married there and for a little more than forty years sold dry goods in that splendid little Southeastern Grayson county town, which is still his home. Mr. Thompson always speaks in terms of highest praise of the pioneer McKinney citizens above referred to and others. He is a fine old gentleman whom this editor greatly enjoyed meeting and conversing with.

EXTEND TIME LIMIT TO JULY 15 FOR CROP LOANS

The period for receiving applications for summer fallowing and winter wheat loans from the Emergency Crop Loan office at Dallas has been extended to the close of business July 15, according to announcement made today by Charles W. Sherrill, Regional Manager of the region comprising Texas, New Mexico and Arizona.

Emergency Crop Loans for the purpose of summer fallowing and the combined purpose of summer fallowing and purchasing winter seed wheat are available in certain counties of Texas, New Mexico and Arizona where wheat is grown commercially. Regulations provide a maximum allowance for fallowing of $1.00 per acre, and for the purchase of seed wheat not to exceed $1.00 per acre.

The loans are made under the regulations relative to Emergency Crop Loans issued March 1, of the present year, and are received and handled in the same manner through County Loan Committees and Field Supervisors. Security for the loan is a first lien on all crops to be grown and harvested on the land described in the mortgage.

The Dallas office is also making Emergency Feed Loans to enable farmers to purchase feed for farm livestock in certain counties of the region.

Supplies have been forwarded to committees in the following counties in the three states where wheat loans were made in 1933.

New Mexico—Colfax, Curry, Guadalupe, Harding, Quay, Roosevelt and Union.

Arizona—Graham, Maricopa and Final.

Our old friend, G. A. Walker, who resides at the corner of Bradley and Tucker streets, is using our classified columns to advertise for a pair of shell-rimmed spectacles that he lost downtown Tuesday. Mr. Walker is the aged father of T. M. Walker. He is a fine, old Christian gentleman. He is badly handicapped since the loss of his spectacles, and we are hoping through the medium of our advertising columns to find them and restore them to him. Mr. Walker has to get about by the aid of crutches since he was struck by an auto at a street crossing in McKinney a year or two ago and badly injured.

Mrs. W. J. Ferguson and daughters, Mary Frances and Sexwillow, of Sherman, were McKinney visitors Monday while en route to attend funeral in Dallas of Dr. O. T. Cooper, prominent Methodist preacher of Oak Cliff and formerly pastor of their church in Sherman.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Addison and son, Ben, of Liberty, Texas, are guests of R. B. Addison, 511 North Tennessee street. Dr. Addison and R. B. Addison are brothers. They will remain in Texas some ten days.

However, the "onion deal" at Princeton is now declining with most of the crop harvested and now being shipped out or made ready for shipping.

INFORMATION GIVEN BY FARM AGENT M'CULLOUGH

County Farm Agent Jack P. McCullough announces that there has been some misunderstanding concerning two phases of the cotton reduction program in this county among some of the farmers cooperating therein.

One misunderstanding has cropped up concerning the division of checks between farmer and landlord. In the 1933 plow-up, the tenant farmer and the landlord who cooperated were advised and requested to divide the check for the plow-up between themselves.

This year, 1934, there has been no division. The farmer receives his check separately and the landlord likewise receives his own individual check for the plow-up. Therefore, no division is necessary. This phase of the cotton reduction has not been thoroughly understood by a number of farmers, and there have been several cases where tenants have taken half of their check and deposited it in various banks over the county to the account of their landlord. Agent McCullough urges that all tenants and landlords keep this phase of the contracts in mind.

Another feature of the contract which sometimes causes some misunderstanding is that dealing with crops grown on land taken out of production by the farmer in the cotton reduction movement. Concerning this, Agent McCullough says, "This land is rented by the Government. The reduction contract in this instance is very specific. It says: "Use the rented acres only for soil improving crops, erosion preventing crops, food crops for consumption by the producer on this farm, feed crops for the production of livestock or livestock products for consumption or use by the producer on his farm or farming or such other uses as may be permitted by the Secretary of Agriculture or his authorized representatives or agents."

AGENT ASSISTS CLUB MEMBERS IN JELLY MAKING

"I never could make jelly until Miss Dunlap sent us some material on it," Mrs. Bart Bryant, secretary of the Wetsel Home Demonstration club, told her group when Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration club agent, met with them. She further states that previously her jelly was not a good quality, but since she did not understand the principles of jelly making, she could not correct her mistakes. Her sample, which was brought to the club for inspection showed that she had followed directions carefully as it had all the qualities of the best of jelly.

Subject matter for the programs given in the clubs in the absence of the agent are prepared in the home demonstration agent office and mailed to each club in advance. This material is given to the person responsible for the meeting who presents the subject to her club. During the month of May each club had a jelly making demonstration presented by one of its members.

Mrs. Bryant says that it has been of untold worth to her. She states that she now knows that good jelly is made by boiling the juice very rapidly and that the amount of sugar varies from 2-3 to 1 cup of juice, depending upon the degree of sourness. She states now she knows that formerly she ruined jelly by using too much sugar, causing it to have a consistency of syrup.

SOME COTTON CHECKS HERE FOR FARMERS

County Farm Agent Jack P. McCullough urges all those farmers who have not yet received their cotton checks and who have been notified that said checks are here in McKinney to come by his office as soon as possible and get them. Mr. McCullough states that there are some 300 or 400 of these checks which have not yet been called for and which he is anxious to distribute as soon as possible. Agent McCullough also states that most of these checks are for farmers in the Princeton territory who have been notified of the arrival of these checks but who have not yet called for them. He urges that these farmers get their checks as soon as possible.

MRS. H. L. RICHEY DIES AT RIPE OLD AGE OF 84

Funeral services were held at the North Baptist church here last (Saturday) afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, with Rev. G. B. Bradshaw in charge. Burial was in Pecan Grove cemetery in charge of the Isaac Crouch Funeral home.

MERRELL BENTON ENTERS M'KINNEY ONION MARKET

W. M. (Merrell) Benton of this city is an active onion buyer and shipper here this season.

Merrell is a native of this county having been reared on the farm of his parents, three or four miles southeast of McKinney.

Some years ago, he went to the West Texas oil field where he became a successful driller and had sense enough to retire when the field began to wane, returning to his old McKinney home and investing in city property and in good farm land, which he personally looks after.

A representative of this paper ran across him a day or two ago in one of the packing and shipping sheds at the L. A. & T. railway, this city. He showed us some of the prettiest Crystal White onions that we ever saw, sacked and ready for shipment that were grown from seed produced in Collin county. He says the seed were planted early last fall, making slips that came through the winter in good condition and were then pulled and transplanted, producing the product before us.

Mr. Benton says that the heavy expense of onion slips raised elsewhere are a real burden to the farmers, costing something like $25.00 to $35.00 per acre for the plants alone.

He says if Collin becomes enterprising enough to grow her own onion plants, it will mark a very definite advanced step forward for Collin county in the onion producing industry.

The county needs the onion industry, because of the season of the year that local onion harvest from the slip product comes on. It affords employment for much labor, thus benefiting local trade of every kind, because the wages earned, in turn are immediately turned loose among local merchants for the necessaries of life. It means more freight revenue for the railroads, electric railway and motor trucks in transporting the onions to the wholesale centers.

The onion deal means a big pick-up in farm proceeds for the year and brings lots of new money to local banks and to turn loose in local trade channels.

According to Mr. Benton, Collin is favored beyond most any other county of our state or in the Southwest, because of its range of agricultural products grown.

All the staple crops—cotton, corn, wheat, oats, barley, rye, are practically sure crops, every year.

25 YEARS AGO IN M'KINNEY

FROM THE FILES OF THE DAILY COURIER-GAZETTE

(June 15, 1909.)

T. G. Brown, a respected old Roland citizen, was a business caller at our office today.

Editor F. C. Thompson of the Examiner and family are enjoying a week's vacation and outing at Caddo Lake, La.

Lon Stroup and brother, Prof. T. A. Stroup, were here from Verona yesterday. The latter has taught eight years at Verona and has been re-employed to teach next year.

Frank Patterson and Miss Bessie Williams of the Woodlawn community, were married at 3 o'clock Sunda yafternoon at the home of Eld. G. W. Taylor in this city, who officiated.

Col. E. W. Kirkpatrick, C. E. Royster, W. C. Burrus and wife, Uncle Tom Murray, Watus Pendergrass and County Commissioner W. M. Burgess have all returned from Memphis, Tenn., where they attended the big Confederate reunion.

"Softening of the Backbone," original, humorous and instructive lecture, will be delivered by Rev. John Calhoun Sligh at McKinney High school this evening at 8 o'clock under the auspices of the Woman's Home Missionary Society of the First M. E. church. When a boy, Rev. Dr. Sligh lived with his parents for several years in McKinney.

Then, in addition, other important crops like onions, alfalfa, sweet clover, Sudan grass, most of the feed crops in the way of sorghums and every kind of truck and garden stuff will also grow equally as well.

If a farmer is industrious and will use his head to take advantage of these diversified crop possibilities he can come nearer making a living and some net money at farming in Collin than he can in most any other county in which he could locate in this or any other state of the Union.

NEW SILK DRESS MADE AT COST OF ONLY $1.03

"I want you to see the silk dress I made for Barbara at a cost of one dollar and three cents," Mrs. Grace McTee, secretary of the Barnett home demonstration club, told Miss Helen Dunlap, county home demonstration club agent. Mrs. Grace McTee stated that she made the dress for her daughter, who was a member of the Blue Ridge High school this year. Since Barbara rooms in Blue Ridge during the school term, her mother made the dress by her foundation pattern which was made to fit her. In her club work, Mrs. McTee has learned how to alter a standard pattern according to the design of the dress she wishes to make. She stated that the material was bought at a reduced price, it being a remnant.

By applying the principles Mrs. McTee has learned in club work she cut a cape to ripple over the shoulders the way the fashion plate showed. She also altered the plain skirt by placing set in parts.

She said, "You see, I cut a piece of paper the size I wanted, then I slashed it here to give the rippled effect as Mrs. Barnes, state clothing specialist, showed us how to do."

A. C. Bullock Sr. has just purchased from Ray Roberts & Company the nice old home place of Capt. R. M. Board, corner of West Tucker and North Bradley streets. Mr. Bullock believes in McKinney owns considerable property and bought this nice old home as a business investment.

Judge Wallace Hughston and wife attended services at the Methodist church, at Princeton, where he occupied the pulpit as lay speaker at the 11:00 o'clock service for the pastor, Rev. Frank Wilkinson, Sunday.

LOCAL T. & N. O. RAILWAY SHEDS INADEQUATE TO MEET DEMAND ONION GROWERS

Local Agent T. C. Martin and His Three Efficient Expert Helpers Utilizing every facility To Meet Harvest Season Rush—Road Has Five Freight Trains Daily That Give Shippers Prompt Service—Importance Of Fast Expanding Onion Growing Industry Around McKinney Challenges Attention of Local Business Leaders As Well As Railroads If This Market Center Is To Expand As It Is Possible To Grow.

Tom C. Martin, local agent for the Texas & New Orleans railway (formerly H. & T. C.) at McKinney and his three efficient helpers are unusually busy at this particular onion harvest season.

Mr. Martin is a veteran railroad station agent with whom the public likes to deal. He has very little to say, but what he does say is to the point and means something. He keeps an alert eye in looking after interests of his great railroad, which is a part of the Southern-Pacific System, to see that patrons get every courtesy and accommodation due them.

His assistants in the local McKinney office are T. D. Mullikin, billing clerk, who is one of the best railroad tariff men and billing clerks that Mr. Martin has ever been associated with in all of his railroad experience; T. H. Cole, telegraph operator and cashier, is likewise efficient, loyal and accommodating on his part of the job. B. F. Test is general office helper and cotton clerk, who is equal to the best in his line.

From what this paper can see and learn, the T. & N. O. railway is very fortunate in being represented at McKinney by such an enterprising, loyal and efficient corps of representatives as these four gentlemen headed by Mr. Martin. They are each popular and held in utmost esteem by their home people.

During the onion season, the T. & N. O. has five freight trains coming through McKinney daily to promptly move the cars as quickly as they are loaded and send them on their journey to the big city markets of the North and East, to the larger cold storage plants of larger cities.

The T. & N. O. has a most excellent, spacious onion shed along side their line and adjacent to the depot. It is the accommodation of onion buyers, packers and shippers. The volume of business handled by the T. & N. O. is limited only by its lack of packing and shipping shed facilities, this season.

The big increase in onion acreage in the McKinney onion growing area is making large and much heavier demands on this railroad than it has facilities to accommodate. McKinney hopes that it will build additional shed and packing room next year.

McKinney has long been growing onions in a commercial way, but this area has taken on new interest in the last year or two in this farm industry and our city must wake up and cooperate with the farmers and the buyers in providing every facility compatible with its volume for handling the valuable crop after it has been grown and brought here to market. Otherwise our city will continue to be handicapped as a marketing center.

McKinney has really entered the lists of the more important onion growing areas of the state, which fact must be recognized by our Chamber of Commerce, banks and all business interests as well as the local railroads so that every facility may be provided for the farmers, who come here to market their onions and for the buyers—local and those coming from other points in the state and country, who are anxious to bid on the crop when our farmers bring their valuable product here to sell or ship or place upon cold storage.

SEVENTY-SEVENTH BIRTHDAY OF W. B. SIMS OBSERVED

OLD FRISCO COUPLE HONORED ON FATHER'S DAY

In celebration of his 77th birthday and in observance of Father's day, June 17, the children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sims had a family gathering at their home Sunday at Frisco. It was a surprise to this honored old couple and the day was greatly enjoyed. Each brought well filled baskets and the noon meal was a feast in keeping with the occasion. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Sims, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Hill and family, Howard, Clyde and Frank Sims and families all of Frisco; Ollie Sims, wife and son of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Everett Drew of Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Eric Nelson and family, Miss Clara Alice Crouch, all of McKinney, Mary Jean Kanaman and Ralph Roberts.

While in town Wednesday, N. C. Settle of Prosper, a veteran West Collin farmer and a good one, too, told us that his wheat only averaged ten bushels per acre this year and oats, twenty bushels per acre. This was one of the lightest grain crops that he has ever produced. He states that cotton is doing fairly well, but corn is badly needing a good soaking rain. Mrs. Settle was in town with her husband.

Mrs. Stella Rhymes and daughter, Miss Maydee, of Winnsboro, are guests in the home of Senator and Mrs. Tom W. Perkins. Senator Perkins and Mrs. Rhymes are brother and sister.

Mrs. Jesse F. Renfro of Littlefield, in West Texas, is a patient in the Dr. E. L. Burton sanitarium at McKinney. She has undergone a serious operation on her eyes, but is getting along nicely at the present time. She is a daughter of J. A. Hood, Route 1, Princeton. Her husband was also reared in this county.

N. C. SETTLE AND WIFE OF PROSPER

WORTHY WEST COLLIN COUPLE; SON PROMINENT WEST TEXAS OFFICIAL

This editor had the pleasure of renewing acquaintances with our longtime friends, Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Settle, of Prosper, while they were in town Wednesday. They were driven to town in their auto by their youngest son, N. C. Settle, Jr., as the husband and father is having to get about by the aid of a crutch since sustaining a painfully cut foot on June 7 while harvesting grain with his selfbinder. The foot got caught between the guards, and the sickle cut his leg about the ankle, which had previously, a good many years before, been badly injured. However, the member is improving nicely, and he hopes to soon be recovered from the hurt. His foot would have been probably severed had he not so quickly stopped the horses.

Mr. and Mrs. Settle are the parents of eight children. She is a niece of the late Uncle Charley Smith, banker and pioneer business man and farmer of Prosper. Her father, the late F. J. Smith, was a brother of Uncle Charley and lived at Aubrey, in Northeast Denton county.

Mrs. Settle's mother died at Prosper in December, 1932, at the age of eighty-five.

Mr. Settle's oldest son, S. E. Settle, has a degree from the North Texas State Teachers college and now lives at Baird, Callahan county, in West Texas, where he began his career as a school teacher. For several terms in succession, he was elected County School Superintendent of Callahan county, from which position he voluntarily retired. In the course of two or three years later he was elected county clerk and is now a candidate for his fourth term in the latter office without an opponent.

These honors speak in terms of highest praise for his efficiency and popularity as a public servant and useful, public spirited, exemplary citizen in every way.

Rev. I. E. Hightower and wife have returned to McKinney from a five weeks' visit to the homes of their sons living in Oklahoma City and Okmulgee, Oklahoma. Their son, Rev. C. C.
